

THE GASWORKS FOUNDATION PATRONS FUND

The Foundation provides an opportunity for members of the community to support the Gasworks Arts Park precinct.

Thanks to the generosity of donors, the foundation has commissioned prominent sculptures within the park, including The Angel made by Sione Francis, the Midden created by Matthew Harding, and the decorative tree gate adorning the Graham Street entrance to the park designed by Gasworks Resident Artist Benjamin Storch. In addition, they have added to the visual aesthetic of Gasworks Arts Park by helping to improve on-site equipment like the cafe courtyard umbrellas.

It has also supported performing arts such as Gasworks Circus Showdown and Circus In the Park participants with development opportunities and prizes. Visual art projects that have received funding include: From Nature, Paint Out, and Bay Windows.

Without the Foundation's support such artist opportunities and projects would not be possible.

Foundation donors are acknowledged on the Gasworks Arts Park website, Season Guide, and via a sign in the Gasworks Theatre Foyer. Each donor receives invitations to special events with opportunities to hear guest speakers and meet artists who have been supported by the Foundation.

Thank you!

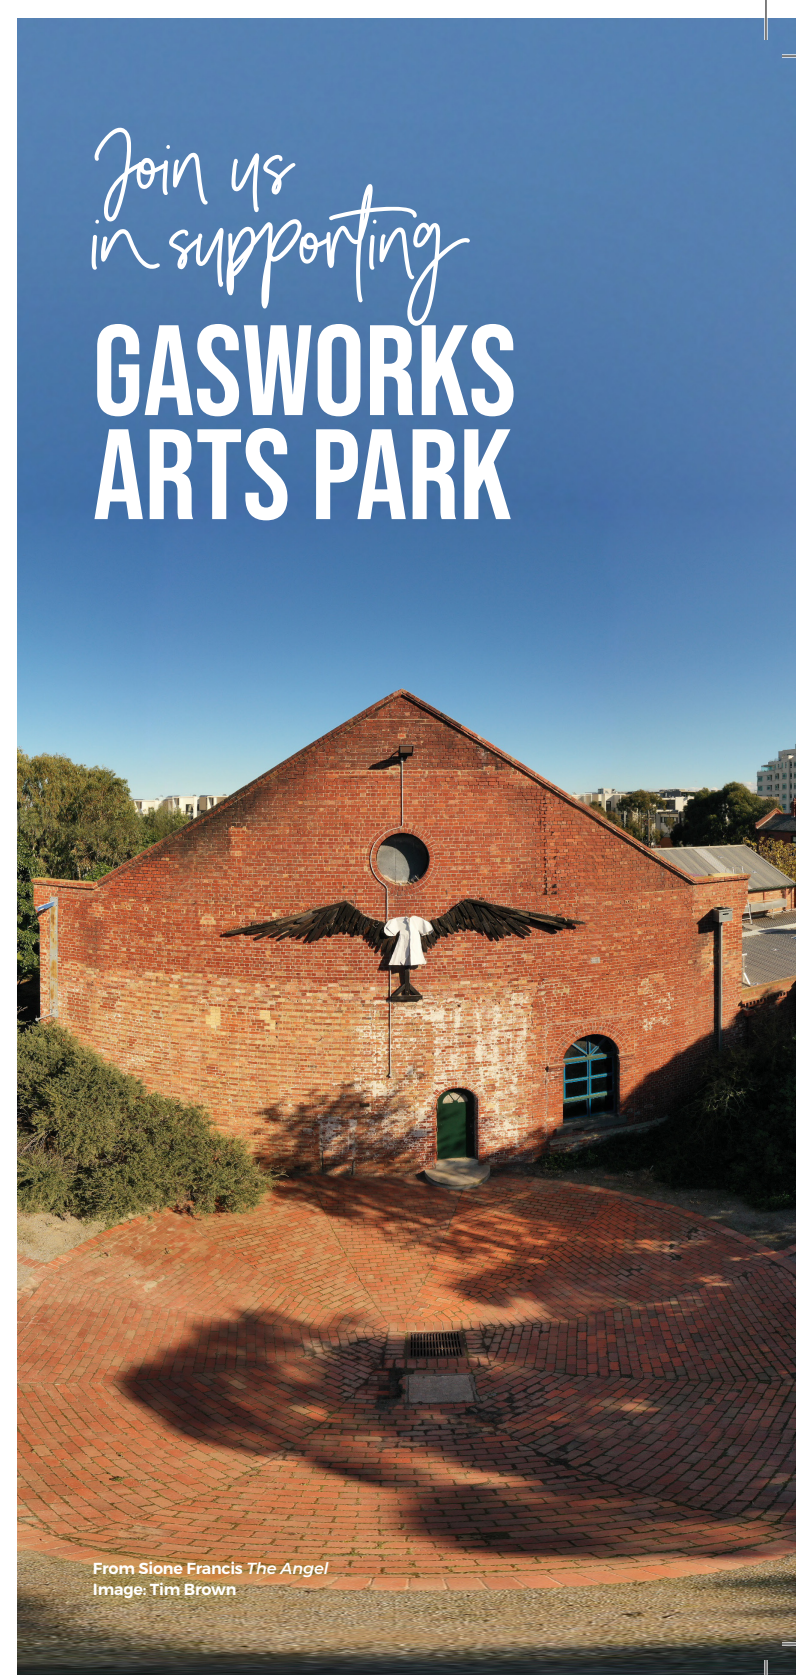

We hope to see you at Gasworks Arts Park soon.

GASWORKS ARTS PARK

Gasworks Arts Park is a thriving inner-urban local arts precinct engaging our local City of Port Phillip community and beyond through a thriving year-round arts and cultural program for all generations.

Gasworks is also the host of a thriving monthly farmers market, a long-time hub for established festivals Fringe and Midsumma, and a venue for hire.

Gasworks provides mentorship, promotes collaborations, and facilitates career development opportunities for both performing and visual artists.

The Gasworks visual arts team successfully stage over 30 exhibitions each year for emerging and established artists and social inclusion groups and manage the thriving community of 16 Resident Artists.

A variety of Gasworks' programs, exhibitions, artist opportunities, and infrastructure projects are supported by the Gasworks Foundation Patrons Fund.
